NO MORE SHINPLASTERS.

Whatever may be the apprehensions of the public as regards the efforts of Governor Costa to shinplaster the Argentine Republic there can be no doubt that President Pellegrini and the Finance Minister are determined to resist any further issues. There is at the same time an impression abroad that Congress will bring in a law for raising the amount of paper-money to 500 or 600 millions, but we have the promise of the President that he will veto such a law, as provided by the Constitution.

It is by no means certain that the shinplaster party can count on a majority in Congress. Senators and Deputies know perfectly well that any fresh issue would drive up the price of gold to 500 or more. They may well hesitate before giving their sanction to such a state of things, which would necessarily lead to further emissions and ultimately plunge Buenos Ayres and the whole republic in a crisis far greater than what we have yet experienced. We have, therefore, every hope that they will favorably entertain the Government project of one great bank, similar to the Bank of England, whether the necessary capital be supplied by wealthy Argentines or by European capitalists.

"Let us save the Provincial Bank" is a good watchword, but "let us save the Republic" is still better, and happily the one does not exclude the other. We must first consolidate the monetary affairs of the nation, as the Government proposes, by a great Bank of the Republic, and then it will be easy to devise means for reorganizing the Provinciol Bank, which has probably a large amount of good bills in its portfolio.

If the supporters of the Provincial Bank were not so eager for a fresh issue of 100 million shin-plasters that institution would not inspire so much distrust in the public mind. The efforts made by the people who subscribed to the Patriotic Loan, last month, are a proof that the public has no hostility to that bank, but rather desires to save it if possible. The loan in question, however, was a strenuous protest against any fresh issue of shin-plasters, because we have already too much of that kind of money. Therefore, if the Provincial Bank is to be saved it must be on its own merits. It has a capital of 34 millions, and bills amounting to 152 millions: let the Government of Buenos Ayres hand over the capital and the bills in portfolio to a joint-stock company, and see whether the shares will be taken up by the public.

The country is at present groaning under a weight of paper-money that has no parallel elsewhere. The total issue when Pres. Roca left office was 70 millions; to-day it is 280 millions, and as this latter sum is three times greater than the Republic can digest we find that the paper-dollar has fallen to less than one-third of its nominal value.

Money, like water, will find its level, and no matter how much the currency of this country be increased the ratio between gold and shinplasters will follow a fixed rule. If we have 500 millions currency the dollar will be worth 20 cents, if 1,000 millions 10 cents. But it is not a matter of no consequence to the public whether we have 300 millions or 900 millions of shinplasters. The trade of the country will be thrown into confusion by deteriorating still further the currency. The whole fabric of social wealth and welfare will be shaken to its foundations, and we shall see in Buenos Ayres a repetition of the terrible scenes that occurred in Paris in the time of John Law.

Those people who call for more paper-money are either utterly reckless of consequences or ignorant of what France suffered in the 18th century.

MONTEVIDEAN FINANCES.

Mr. Edward Casey, in a lengthy letter to the President of the Banda Oriental—a document unfortunately too long for our columns — gives some very interesting particulars of the utter discredit of Uruguay in the London market, and takes to task the Uruguayan President for refusing to accept the proposal of the London bankers to reorganize the National Bank of Uruguay. Mr. Casey's letter has necessarily produced a sensation in all circles interested in Uruguayan finances; he begins by thanking the President for the mission confided to him and states that no sooner had he landed in London he saw that insuperable obstacles were in his way. In fact, all River Plate business in London is considered suspicious to-day; the bankers will not look at bills from Buenos Ayres or Montevideo. Mr. Sanford, so favourably known on both sides of the Plate, informed him that if all the stocks, shares, paper-money and other securities of the Uruguayan Government, created already or to be created in the future, were to be offered in pledge, he doubted that one hundred thousand sovereigns could be raised on the security. Even the agent of the National Bank in London confessed that such was the adverse impression produced by the non-payment of the railway guarantees, that no pledges of the Uruguayan Government would be accepted.

Mr. Casey, it appears, endeavored to raise 7 million gold dollars in London; he offered in guarantee no less than 14 millions of Uruguayan stocks and 100,000 preferred shares of the National Bank enjoying 8% interest. One of the London bankers assured Mr. Casey that these guarantees were worthless. A leading syndicate offered to subscribe the money on condition they appointed the Uruguayan Minister of Finance, arging that Egypt had been obliged to accept such conditions!

The Barings, according to Mr. Casey, are hostile to all River Plate undertakings, especially Uruguayan. The liquidators of that great firm had no less than £3,000,000 stg. of Uruguayan securities which they threatened to throw on the market, if the Uruguayan Government persisted in its legal proceedings to oblige the contracting firm to carry out the contract of the Ferro-Carriles Oeste de Uruguay. Furthermore, the principal cause of the failure of Baring was Uruguay; during the government of Tajes the firm had been deceived and had negotiated a loan of $20,000,000, confiding in the assurances that there was no deficit in the treasury. The deficit leaked out, the National Bank of Uruguay failed, and the failure of Baring became inevitable. Now, the Uruguayan Government threatened to go to law in order to oblige Baring to comply with his contract to build the Ferro Carriles Oeste de Uruguay, the firm threatened to let go all its Uruguayan Stocks, to the amount of £3,000,000, and if a compromise were not arrived at the results would be simply disastrous, both to Baring and the credit of Uruguay, for the stocks of the Republic would fall to a discreditable quotation.

When he arrived in London, Mr. Casey found that the managers of the guaranteed railways working in Uruguay were agreed to lodge a protest in the Stock-Exchange against the Uruguayan Government for non-payment of the guarantees. Thanks to his efforts such a course was not adopted; he succeeded in inducing the railway companies to accept a lower guarantee—5% instead of 7%; it was agreed also that the 2% of the guarantee should be invested in colonizing lands along the railways; this would give an immense impetus to colonization and agriculture. In connection with this feature of his mission, Mr. Casey succeeded in getting a foothold for the Uruguayan cattle on the continent; he had made arrangements for the purchase of from 100,000 to 200,000 Uruguayan "Saladero" steers per annum; he had made arrangements with the steamship companies to convey these animals on a guarantee that a certain number of animals would be supplied on each trip. In his agreements the only stipulation of a restrictive character is a minimum weight fixed for each animal.

Mr. Casey then tells the President that in order to consolidate the finances of the country, the reorganization of the National Bank is a vital necessity. He had succeeded in making a negotiation with the London bankers, the conditions of which were most satisfactory. He had promised to answer the bankers on the 20th inst., informing them if the "ad referendum" contract were accepted or refused. This short term for answer he had fixed, in order to get gold from London before the end of June, say $4,000,000, half in gold, half in silver. Mr. Casey cannot disguise his regret that the President has not yet given any definite answer, especially as $7,000,000 are in question. The 1st July, when the National Bank must resume specie payments, is approaching, and the Bank will be in a predicament worse than ever. The help of the Brazilian gold, $3,000,000, may enable the Bank to convert the notes in circulation; but how can the bank pay its deposits, private, judicial and official? These will be irretrievably lost. Mr. Casey thinks that he is the only man in the Banda Oriental who can save and reorganize the Bank: he appeals to the directors to corroborate the assertion. Mr. Casey emphatically states that without his assistance the shares of the Bank are not worth the paper upon which they are printed. In view of such a critical situation he fails to account for the silence of the Government when his proposal to reorganize the Bank would settle everything.

Mr. Casey concludes his lengthy letter saying that if the Government care not to countenance his scheme he will leave the country and try with the help of his creditors and his own hard work to pay off all he owes: he regrets that obstacles should have been placed in the way of a scheme that would have conferred great benefits on the country.

MY EXPERIMENT AT RIO.

GREAT MORTALITY AMONG EUROPEANS.

Mr. Editor,

The crash in Argentina sent a lot of us to Rio Janeiro in the hope of bettering ourselves: some have got employment, many are still unemployed. Portuguese is not so similar to Spanish as is generally thought, and the want of a knowledge of it is a stumbling-block to numbers of emigrants. I have met many men of fair education who could command, at one time, in Argentina from $150 to $250 a month, very glad to accept peones work at 4 milreis a working day, and not always at work. There is a great number of surveyors and civil engineers who have been beguiled into coming here by advertisements in the Buenos Ayres papers, and find to their sorrow that there is no occupation for them; a arge number have gone to England, while others remaining here are positively starving. I have not been here a month, yet during the first week I knew two men who died from yellow fever, another who recovered, but so emaciated that he is leaving the country. I have heard of frequent other cases; mates of vessels and those about the Harbour appear to suffer most. The sewage is not taken out to sea, but is emptied close to the shore; the bay has a narrow mouth and the tide rising only three or four feet has no effect in carrying out to sea the sewage, which is washed up and down the inlet, to the great detriment of health. The numbers of deaths from yellow fever is as much as possible kept unknown. One night in going home I saw in the middle of a street of the better class a mattrass, carpets, valise, etc., which had evidently been thrown out for fear of infection; the number of funerals and coffins one sees is appalling, and the prevalence of yellow fever is by no means confined to the Capital. The sun is debited with having a good deal to do with the sickness, even in places where there is no sewage nuisance; the boats to Great Britain are taking lots of passengers away who have had enough of the place and are frightened. Add to this the depreciation of the paper money and the uncertainty of its value and it will readily be seen that Rio is not exactly an El Dorado; the milreis instead of being worth two shillings and two pence is not worth eighteen pence, and will most likely follow the example of your pesos, for the government officials are ruining the country by similar methods to those adopted in Argentina. The place itself is the most lovely one I have ever seen, and most parts of the globe have come under my notice, but the bane of disease and depreciated money deter many from staying here; clothing, food and other necessaries are double Buenos Ayres prices. Three out of five companions who came up a month ago from Buenos Ayres are dead, and the captains of the vessels calling here hurry away as quickly as possible. I know several English workmen, engaged in England for two years at fair wages, and they are all longing for the termination of their agreement to enable them to claim a passage home. If times are bad in Buenos Ayres, you will see we are not better off here.

Yours truly,
Viator

LONDON LETTER.

GOOD FRIDAY.

(From our own Correspondent.)

March 27th.

Again holidays: club deserted, silent squares with drawn blinds, railway stations infested with volunteers, bank clerks and members of parliament on their way to the coast and country seats; shops shut, back streets swarming with noisy children, tram-cars darkened with folk eager for fresh air and merry-go-rounds on Hampstead Heath or at the Welsh Harp at Hendon. The every-day rumble and roll of the London streets has partially ceased, and the church bells sound with a sabbath-like clearness through the continuous squealing of the little ones as good as gold a makin o'mud pies in the gutters. A holiday it is, and has been through all Lent. A few qualms of conscience were set at rest by Her Majesty, the Head of the Church and Defender of the Faith, commanding dramatic performances at Windsor at this solemn season. And now our widowed sovereign has gone to Grasse, where the temperature is 64 Fahrenheit and where a hospitable people regale their royal guest with orchids and roses, strawberries and grapes; and where over a stretch of violet sea she feasts her eyes on the blue mountains of Corsica nestling in the brilliance of a Riviera sunset. Here, we have a gleam of mustard-coloured light between intervals of sleet and rain, with an occasional growl of thunder overhead. Still we are very happy, as long as we can pay our weekly extras for boot cleaning and scuttles of coals. We envy neither the Queen her roses nor the great "Joe" his orchids, so long as 'am and eggs never tire, and a "small Bass" is within the reach of the meanest. Of such is the kingdom of Cockaigne; a gigantic paradox, where philosophy is and is not, and where even the word "philosophy" is unknown. The contentment more intellectual nations dream of as the end of philosophy London goes on realising unconsciously, and more by freedom of action than through thought.

It seems we have been all blundering in regard to the Message of Señor Herrera y Obes, President of the Republic of Uruguay, The paragraph in the Message relating to the National Bank and Messrs. Baring Brothers is thus commented upon in the City article of the London Times of 25th inst.:—

"With reference to the extracts printed in yesterday's article from the Message to Congress of the President of Uruguay and the comments made thereon, we are authorised to say that the amount due by the National Bank of Uruguay to Messrs. Baring Brothers was never, as stated by the President, $7,000,000, or say about £1,400,000. It never exceeded $3,500,000, or say about £700,000. After the proceeds of the loan of £2,000,000 had all been accounted for, there remained in October about £500,000. Messrs. Baring Brothers state that between £600,000 and £700,000 was due by the bank and paid to Continental bankers for advances taken from them against the security of Treasury notes. Only £300,000 was retained, we are informed, by Messrs. Baring Brothers & Co. towards the repayment of the claims on the National Bank. As these figures are furnished to us from the books of Messrs. Baring Brothers & Co., the inference appears to be that there must be some unintentional error in the report of that part of the President's statement which we published yesterday."

The market for Argentines during the week has been dull, owing to the rise in the premium on gold in Buenos Ayres. We observe your editorial remarks on the cutting of the coupons and the agreement in general between the London bankers and the Argentine Government. The B. Ayres papers only arrived yesterday, but no doubt next week I shall be able to report comments thereon in our financial journals.

Central Argentine debentures have declined, owing to the frank statements made by the chairman at a meeting, the report of which you will find enclosed.

I send you particulars of an alleged ruffianly attack on Mr. T. M. Healy at Cork. According to his account a tall Tipperary man, named Dalton, followed him into his bedroom at the hotel and dealt him a blow, driving his spectacle glasses into his eyes. Mr. Healy is badly injured; he has been attended both by oculist and dentist, for six of his teeth were loosened. Mr. Healy is reported to have generously forgiven his alleged assailant, but later accounts represent him brooding over the fact that Dalton travelled with Mr. Parnell, and he suspects that the assault was planned to prevent him going to Sligo election. However, Mr. Healy hopes still to defeat that object, and to be at Sligo when the election takes place a week hence. The authorities in Sligo are drilling police and collecting aid from Dundalk and other places in case of need. In regard to the Healy incident you will see that men in official position and of the Parnellite persuasion have publicly expressed the opinion that "it served the little person very well right; he should keep a clean tongue in his mouth etc." People of most other persuasions will deeply regret the incident for the sake of Ireland and her cause. Well may Mr. Chamberlain, in replying to a convenient correspondent, observe that the Acton election was a direct reminder to Mr. Gladstone that the English working man will no longer have his interests neglected to serve the purposes of Irish "patriots." The remark is in one sense true; but coming from "patriots" who have sacrificed all reforms, Irish and English, to serve their personal purposes and envy and spite, it has a foul odour.

The Captain of the Utopia has been tried and acquitted. His certificate was not even suspended, although the jury accused him of great want of judgment in bringing his ship into port without noticing the position of the other vessels. You will find a most feelingly and plainly written account of the great disaster sent to the Times by an officer on board the Anson. It has been reprinted by nearly all the papers.

Some of the survivors have gone on to New York and others have returned to Naples in steamers of the same line, the Anchor. A handsome subscription was made for them in Gibraltar. The emigrants are enthusiastic in their praises of the gallantry of the crews of the British war ships in rescuing them. More than two hundred of the bodies have turned up and been buried; but as the officer of the Anson said, in two or three days more "the bay would be full of them." He seemed to hope that his ships would soon leave Gibraltar, such an impression did the terrors of the night of the 17th March make on him. The loss of the Utopia is perhaps the greatest shipping dissaster of our time.

ARGENTINE BANKING.

(From "Money.")

The scheme of the Rothschild committee, agreed to after much fencing and hesitation by the Argentine Government, and having for its object the funding of the coupons and drawn bonds on the Foreign Debt and the railway guarantees for the next three years, must turn out wholly worthless unless very drastic reforms are speedily effected in Argentine banking law. Our readers will recollect that the success of that scheme turns on the contraction of the volume of the inconvertible paper currency within the three years in which the scheme will be operative; Dr. Plaza's contention before the London committee being that if the paper dollar was worth its face value, Argentina could pay its way without any assistance; but with a gold premium of over 200 per cent., or from three to four paper dollars being required to pay one gold dollar, she would, failing to obtain a loan, be obliged to suspend specie payments on her commitments for a time. The committee, adopting more or less this view, have by their agreement secured to the Argentine Government relief for three years from payment in specie of the foreign creditor. Thus a sum, amounting each year to 14,650,000 dols. in gold, will be retained in the country. In consideration of this relief, the Government on its part undertakes to redeem and cancel each year 15,000,000 dols. paper currency, or with the present premium on gold a sum less than 5,000,000 gold dols.; the accumulated Budget surpluses of the three years, calculated at 22,400,000 dols., being sufficient to meet the charges on the Foreign Debt when the provisional agreement comes to an end.

Thus the pivot of the scheme is the reduction of the gold premium; and this reduction can only be effected by bank reform. The Republic is cursed by the very worst system of banking that any civilised or, indeed, semi-civilised country has ever endured. It has taken only three years to ruin this prosperous State under the operation of Pacheco's Free Banking Act. In 1886 the premium was 10 per cent.; to-day it is 236, and recently it has been as high as 275. The fatal Act was passed in December, 1887. Under its provisions a State Bank has been established in every province of the Republic, and practically given "carte blanche" to issue inconvertible paper. The result is that these institutions are one and all bankrupt at the present time, and unless their power of doing mischief by issuing paper is taken from them, it is pure infatuation to expect that specie payments can be resorted to at the end of three years. The difficulty of suppressing these State Banks is political as well as economical, and can only be accomplished by a strong and popular Government. Therefore, until a new President is elected there is no hope that any organic reform will be undertaken in reference to State Banks. It is true that the Government are pledged to refrain from any new issues of paper; but then it is well to remember that pledges are sometimes broken under stress of circumstances. Quite recently the Government were attacked by a senator for conniving at the illegal and clandestine issue of paper by the National Bank and the Bank of the Province of Buenos Ayres during a severe banking crisis. The Government defended itself by saying that they were bound in the general interests to save those important banks, and they could only do so by authorising an issue of paper. They accordingly asked Congrese for an indemnity to the extent of $19,200,000, the amount of the illegal issue; and thus the matter ended. The Provincial Bank is again in difficulties, and last week public holidays were proclaimed to arrest a run on this Government institution. There is therefore no good ground for believing that things will be set right at B. Ayres until after the next Presidential election. The three great financial evils—excessive issues of paper, excessive issues of Cedulas, and extravagant expenditure—from which the country has been suffering, can only be remedied by stopping the issues and curtailing the expenditure, and by no other means.

To stop the issues of paper the present banking law must be repealed. As long as the present law lasts, which gives such latitude to corrupt officials, and is otherwise liable to such gross abuses, in addition to the direct evils of its normal working, the best-intentioned Government will frequently have its hands forced, and be obliged to sanction the issue of more inconvertible paper to tide over seasons of financial stress; and so the day of resumption of specie payments will be indefinitely postponed.

THE PRESENT POSITION OF THE REPUBLIC.

In respect to its paper currency may be inferred from a statement issued by the Government in December last:

Issue of Free Banks	231,982,635	=	46,396,537
Old paper money	15,027,000	=	3,005,000

Until the fount and origin of these enormous issues of paper, the State Banks, are suppressed by law, there can be no real and abiding improvement in the finances of Argentina. Our readers must not suppose that we wish it to be understood that all banks in Argentina are at present unsound, that they are, in short, either bankrupt or verging on bankruptcy. The two British banks—the London and River Plate and the English Bank of the River Plate—have made hay while the sun shone, and laid by good reserves for rainy days. They are even now, in the midst of the wreck of native institutions, doing a sound business, and we see no reason why investors should not put their money into their shares. As to other Argentine securities, we counsel our readers that they should watch the progress of events very closely, and not buy until the future policy of the State is more apparent than it at present appears to be.

CENTRAL ARGENTINE RAILWAY.

THE CHAIRMAN'S VISIT TO ROSARIO.

A meeting of the shareholders in this company was held on March 24th, at Winchester House, to hear from Mr. Walter Morrison, M.P., chairman, a report of the condition and prospects of the company, from a personal visit to the country. The chairman was accompanied on his visit to the Argentine Republic by Mr. George Cooper, one of the directors, and by Mr. T. W. Theobald, the secretary. There was a large meeting, the great hall being crowded on the ground floor and the gallery. The chairman called upon the secretary to read the report of the deputation, which had been prepared. Mr. Theobald stated that the deputation left in November, and returned in the middle of last month. Before the deputation started, the balance-sheet for the year was completed. This showed receipts to have been 728,557*l*., expenses 439,336*l*., leaving a balance of 289,221*l*. The profit for the year was 242,588*l*. Their profit for three years was as follows:—1887, 314,556*l*.; 1888, 408,142*l*.; 1889, 377,232*l*.

The revolution had seriously affected their returns, and brought commerce to a standstill in the country; while the shrinkage of the value of land had brought all owners to poverty. The low-rated traffic had fallen almost entirely away. The deputation was of opinion that the economy forced upon all classes would assist to the return of prosperity and lead to a demand for the commodities which yielded a large profit. They were of opinion that the return of prosperity would be accompanied by the growth of traffic on the main line. They had, in consequence of the state of affairs, taken measures to reduce their working expenses, which were working satisfactorily. The report concluded by saying that they would require £300,000 over and above their present capital, in order to meet their commitments. The Chairman said that the most serious fact was the diminished traffic. In illustration of this he mentioned that the receipts for the last week only amounted to £6,462, but that worked out at £14 per mile per week. The same thing had happened to all other railway lines, and the state of the cities was very sad. At Cordova there was no business being done, there were no carriages about the streets, and all the bullock carts, usually employed in agriculture, had been carrying goods which, in better times, would have been carried by them.

With regard to the future, he considered that as the principal industry was that of agriculture, a line could not be in a bad way which constructed branches through a good soil at a low price. The average quality of land attached to their lines was very superior to the average quality of land attached to the other lines. He hoped that the land would be taken up rapidly by emigrants. In further dealing with the prospects of the company, the Chairman defended all the branch lines which had been constructed as sure, when the population returned to their ordinary avocations, to produce profitable returns. The reduction of their staffs was carried out with great care and without difficulty.

With regard to the changes they proposed carrying out, the general manager and other members of the staff were all efficient, but they had been out a very long time, and had been trained upon a line which had no difficulties until other lines came in competition, and who had not had any experience of the difference in the value of gold and paper. With regard to their future necessities, he explained how they made up the sum of £300,000, which they would shortly require. The indications for the future were, on the whole, favourable; the political position was getting clearer. They were not going to have a better year; the ravages of locusts had been very serious, but their position was nearly as good as that of any other railway in the Republic, but at the same time he had warned the shareholders as to the fluctuating prices which their shares would realise. There would be, he felt sure, a revival of trade and prosperity, and then their receipts would show a corresponding rise, and they would get into a much better position than they occupied at the present time. What he hoped further, was that there would be no war of rates in the Republic.

Mr. Thompson suggested that it was a matter for consideration whether directors could act for seventeen companies with that efficiency which was desirable in a company requiring such careful treatment as theirs. Their secretary was the secretary of three companies, and he thought their secretary ought to give the whole of his attention to their own company. Mr. Cooper was of opinion that the directors had been wanting in the performance of their duty, wanting in the efficient control of their servants, and wanting in management of their business in the Republic. He hoped there would be an infusion of new blood into the directorate. The Chairman said the directors would not shirk the responsibility which had fallen upon them, and he thought the shareholders would be ill-advised to swop horses while crossing a stream. The meeting then terminated. European Mail.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting was held on Tuesday (21st), at the rooms of the above Association, of the lads connected with it, with the object of forming a committee to manage the class and also to elect a captain, vice-captain and secretary for the foot-ball club that is formed in connection with the above class. This class has been formed for a year, and is in itself a minor association. All those who form this class are lads, the eldest being fifteen years of age.

The following were elected as members of the committee:—

A. E. Holder (teacher), A. M. Brown, J, Turner, and H. Torre. H. Torre was elected the captain of the club; G. Martindale as vice-captain and E. Froggatt as secretary. The club was christened "The Juvenile Football Club," and the first match is to be played on the 7th of May next.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The Manager of the National Central Northern has informed the N. R. Board that the Tucuman Branch of the National Bank refuses to pay the money belonging to the railway, amounting to the sum of $45,000, on the pretext that it is a fixed deposit, which is not the case. If the money be not paid out, great inconvenience will be caused, as a large proportion of the staff and employees have not yet received their March salaries. The President of the National Railway Board has asked the Finance Minister to allow him to draw money from the National Bank to pay for the expropriations and other demands for the Central North line.

The representative of the Central Argentine line has submitted for Government approval the plans for several new locomotives and cars for the line.

The colonists at Jesus Maria have petitioned the Minister of the Interior to order the Five Lilles Company to take up the rails they have laid on the San Martin bridge.

The Accountant General has passed the account of $296,451.5 gold sent in by Lucas Gonzalez and Co. in respect of work executed during January last on the Central Northern Extension and Branches.

The Southern Railway some time since purchased from the Provincial Government the concessions granted by Congress under laws 2,416 2502 and 2536, with the idea of rounding off and completing their present system, and, in fact, had already commenced some of the works when the crisis commenced to assume its present proportions. Under the circumstances the Company has applied to the Government for a delay of two years, within which period it is hoped that a reaction will take place which will justify the pushing on of the works in question, and the employment of the necessary capital.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

There seemed to be a delusive lull in everything yesterday, from politics to "pesos" and the price of potatoes; but President Pellegrini is expected back from Cañuelas to-day, and, no doubt, the ball will be set rolling again, and pessimists and optimists will resume bawling at each other as usual.

We publish in another column a very interesting letter from an English gentleman who left Buenos Ayres a short time since for Brazil, to better his fortunes. The terrible state of things which he describes at Rio Janeyro ought to serve as a caution to poor Englishmen and others in the River Plate who may think of going there. Yellow fever is making awful ravages; coffins and funerals are the only things to be seen. Of course the official documents make it appear that only 20 or 30 persons die daily of the epidemic, but we incline to think the victims may be counted by hundreds.

We beg to thank Captain Dickinson, of the R.M.S. Tagus, for sending us late English papers.

Gentlemen gifted with brawny thews and sinews will find a sporting challenge from a "New Hercules" in our advertizement column. Perhaps he could be induced to clean for us those modern Augean Stables, the Free Banks.

The Chilian Congress on the ocean wave has resolved to send two Plenipotentiaries here. This will put the Argentine Foreign Office in a fix, should the Envoys be recognized, officially which is extremely doubtful.

The screaming farce, "A Meeting of Notables," is announced for to-day at La Plata. They intend to discuss the save-the-Bank problem. If they solve it without mentioning the word shinplaster, a grateful country will erect statues to them when they die, or perhaps before.

Telegrams from Montevideo say that the Government will not accept Mr. Casey's offer to save the National Bank, but will entrust that operation to Paris and Berlin rather than to London. "Tant pis pour Paris et Berlin."

Mr. Edwin Cleary has organised a very strong company for his next descent on South America. They leave England by the Iberia on May 13th, play two weeks at Pernambuco and four at Rio; then, hey for the merry Plate. We regret, however, that the company only purpose playing 15 nights in Buenos Aires, but hope they may meet with such a reception as will induce them to extend their stay here. The repertoire comprises "Patience," "Fatinitza" and "Herminie," besides old and new favourites. Mindful of last year's experience, Mr. Cleary brings out no fewer than eight "premieres danseuses."

The Duke of Wellington's Riding School at Albert Gate, with frontage on three streets, was sold in auction the other day for £60,000, the area being 16,900 square feet. Calculating at present exchange, this comes out about $514 m/n the square vara. The corner of Calles Reconquista and Piedad brought a few weeks ago $750 m/n.

The celebrated Burgoine sailing-boat "Ruby" opened the season on the upper Thames last month by coming in over five minutes before any of the new cracks of the river. We understand that a sister boat is being ordered by a prominent member of the Yacht Club Argentino.

We extract the following news from the Morning Post of March 11th. We'd like a cup of "Golden Tip" about 5 p.m. better than the straighest tip about the gold premium or the Presidential election: "Unusual excitement prevailed yesterday in the Commercial Tea Sale Rooms, Mincing Lane, on the offering by Messrs Gow, Wilson and Stanton in public auction of a small lot of Ceylon tea from the Gartmore estate, Ceylon. This tea is composed almost entirely of small "Golden tips," which are the extreme ends of the succulent shoots of the plant, and the preparation of such tea is of course very costly. The competition was of a keen description, and when the price had advanced to £8 per lb. five wholesale dealers were still willing to purchase. The tea was ultimately knocked down at the unprecedented price of £10 2s. 6d. per lb. Gartmore estate is the joint property of Mr. T. C. Anderson, Ceylon, and Mr. H. G. Anderson, Buenos Ayres."

Mr. James E. Anthoney requests us to say that he has brought from England a parcel for Mr. W. A. Forbes, and would feel obliged by his kindly sending for it to the Accountant's Office of the Southern Railway.

The Murrieta business in London revealed the interesting fact that the firm lent some time ago £100,000 to the Prince of Wales, which the genial Heir Apparent was quite unable to pay when called on, so his Hebrew chum Baron Hirsch paid it for him, as if it were five shillings. One of the society papers, of March 28th, says that the wealthy Baron has again "financed an elevated personage to the amount of £200,000."

The Free Bank of Cordoba has again displayed the chronic freedom of its ideas as regards the Banking Laws of the Republic. It has issued another million of shinplasters, under the delusive name of "obligations;" and this without saying "by your leave" to the National Finance Minister. Go it, old Cordoba!

Alderman Rodriguez and Mr. Porcel, ex-Manager of the Corrales, came to blows in Calle Florida on Tuesday, but neither was damaged to speak of. The recent dismissal of Mr. P. from his post had something to do with the case.

The City Engineer reports that there is not the slightest chance of the new Colon Theatre in Plaza Lavalle being finished within contract time. It doesn't matter a wooden nutmeg, as there won't be over much cash available for opera going in this city for years to come.

We erred slightly in our tip to speculators in Tucuman sugar. The prices given are per hundred kilos. They serve to show the too utterly utter rapacity of the city grocers.

The Zoos are now tackling that venerable and dilapidated structure the Barracas Bridge. They say it is a source of great danger for the animals that cross it. What about those noble animals, men and women, dear Zoos? There are more holes in the bridge than ever there were in the late, deeply-lamented Mole, ruthlessly swept away by the abortive Madero Legacy.

Influenza is raging again in Chicago. The papers report 1,400 deaths from it in three weeks.

Cedula holders at last know how much of the coupon due on the 1st of this month they are to pocket. Twenty per cent is the figure, and they can dress in mourning and call for it at the Mortgage Bank office in this city on and after Monday next. Certificates, or I. O. U's. will be given for the balance. Meanwhile the Protesting holders intend suing the Bank and the La Plata Government in the Supreme Federal Court for the full amount of their coupons. The crisis is getting as thick as good porridge.

The Municipality has started in the butcher line and opened stalls in the Central and La Plata markets. The price for the best meat is 25 cents the kilo. The butchers charge 60, so their feelings in face of this official competition can be more easily imagined than described.

The Chief of the Estado Mayor of the Navy has sent a note to the Minister of the Interior asking him to forward the necessary instructions to the Observatory in Cordoba to telegraph to the Head Staff once a week the proper chronometrical time for the service of the fleet.

Two cowboys (old acquaintances) meeting, one of them asked the other: "What became of our old friend, the colonel, who went to Texas?" "He was hanged for shooting a lawyer down there", was the reply. "Indeed!" exclaimed the first speaker. "Well well! They do hang a man for almost anything in that State!"

Viscount Guadiana, the famous Chevalier d'Industrie, was up before the Court of Appeal the other day and made an eloquent speech in his own defence, against the three years' imprisonment allotted to him for sundry swindles that were town talk for some time last year. The distinguished nobleman missed his vocation in life, and should have been a lawyer, as he adroitly "burst into tears" at the most telling part of his speech. The reporters do not say whether the Judges were "visibly affected" or not, but we suppose they were.

The nuisance of newsboys and others jumping on and off tram cars has become intolerable. The ambition of every baby of a street boy is to perform the perilous feat. The other day we saw two chits of 4 and 5 years at it. The former fell in jumping off and had a miraculous escape of having his little head cut off by the wheels of the car. Arrest and a sound whipping at the Comisaria is the obvious remedy for this abuse; but, of course, in this dignified country the "dignidad del hombre" theorists shudder at the idea of caning boys for their own good.

A question has arisen between the Rural Society and the Mint about the payment by the former of 7,760 dollars for medals struck off by the latter for the last Rural Show at Palermo. The Rural Society contends that patriotism demands that the taxpayers should pay for the medals. This is cool; it is this kind of patriotism that has helped the country into its present mess. The amount seems tremendous, except on the premise that every exhibitor, and his cousins and his aunts, as well as his ass, horse and sheep, won a medal; a thing not quite unknown at exhibitions in these good-natured latitudes.

A robbery on an unusual scale was reported yesterday. M. Caille is minus 20,000 National Bank shares and 50,000 Cedulas, taken by a clerk of his who is still at large.

The National Labour Office has now 366 places open for applicants, amongst them 82 for coopers. This demand for cask-makers is no doubt due to the abundant vintage in the upper provinces.

The Caridad lottery of Montevideo will only have drawings twice a month for the future. In the ante-crisis times it was twice a week.

A Washington man named Burke has invented a better way to clear animals from the railway track than the played-out cow-catcher, which causes far more accidents than it prevents. The new idea is a hose from which the engine-driver squirts on the animals scalding water from the boiler; and the speed at which they "clear out" under this gentle persuasion is said to be "a caution to rattlesnakes."

The Figaro has been deploring the decline of the art of dining in the stronghold of "la gourmandise"—Paris—itself. The modern Parisian, it says, still loves his dinner, but not with the single-hearted, entire devotion of the good old days. He dines to amuse himself—to chat, to see, to scoff, discuss, and flirt, and is not in the least impressed with the seriousness of the function.

Several Government Inspectors are about to start on a tour of the Centros Agricolas. It is not very rash to predict that their report will be worth reading. Another bit of news from La Plata is that the grand "Palace of the Legislature" there, which cost such a mint of money, is found to be quite too small for all the lawmakers under the reformed Constitution. Our Argentine colleagues declare that this "es un colmo"; and it certainly looks like it.

Mr. Homberger has generously given his large portrait of General Mitre, which attracted so much favorable notice on the day of the General's reception, to the Damas de Beneficencia, to raffle for the Foundling Hospital.

San Juan society is in a ferment at the result of the inquiry into the recent brutal murder of Sr. La Rosa by a gang of masked men. His widow, a lady related to some of the first families of the province, and remarkable for her beauty, has been arrested as the instigator of the terrible crime.

EXCHANGE RATES—

England	13¼d.
France	1.45½ fcs.
Germany	1.17¼ marks
Belgium	1.46 fcs.

Wednesday, April 22.
To-day marked a return to lethargy on 'Change. There was no fresh news and no rumours; and although the emission advocates are still confident of their cause carrying the day, apprehensions on this head for the moment are somewhat less pronounced. Gold, in consequence, was decidedly weaker, the ounce dropping to 56.40 and closing at 56.70, which gives an equivalent of 348½ %, whilst sovereigns closed weak at 17.70. In the stock market the tendency was for a relapse, Constructors falling to 7, Catalinas to 10.70 and National Bank shares to 46.50; but Cedulas sprang into brisk demand and rose all along the line, in spite of the percentage to be paid on the April coupon turning out to be 20% instead of the 25 % expected. Everybody was talking to-day of the Cedula question, and the great interests affected both here and in London by the new bill, which, by allowing the cancelling of loans with any series of Cedulas of equal or greater amortization and interest, has tended to depreciate the older and appreciate the newer series. This levelling clause in the bill has put fresh life into the stock. Many parties whose properties are mortgaged in earlier and more valuable series have hastened to secure the M, N, O and P series at low rates to cancel their engagements, thus creating such a brisk demand for the series that rates are actually "booming." This is the explanation of a rise in Cedulas here, in the face of the stiff fall that has taken place in London, shewing that although Cedulas are no longer looked for as an investment, the rates will in all probability be well sustained: it was the cable that announced this new levelling process in Cedulas that created a kind of panic in the London market and frightened out of their wits some parties who are struggling under an enormous load of the fatal stock.
The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day.

The National Government issued a decree yesterday creating an exception for judicial deposits, paymasters' accounts, etc., under the late decree suspending payments, so that all such deposits will be paid in full. It is unnecessary to dwell on the justice of this view, as judicial deposits, having been made by compulsion in the National Bank, they could in no sense be considered on a level with those of option. The latter must run all ordinary risks, but the Government is bound to guarantee the former.
The National Bank meeting on the 24th inst. will be numerously attended, and the matter was much discussed in the ring to-day, where it was said that the state of the bank will be closely investigated by the shareholders, who are anxious to know how their interests stand. Over 50,000 shares have been already deposited, and lists of the candidates for the board are being drawn up.
Business at the second hour was only remarkable for a tremendous spurt in Cedulas, which set the whole market by the ears, and everybody was asking what was in the wind. The N, O and P series now stand at 45, which shews a wonderful recovery in two days, and would seem to indicate that there are some very heavy buyers in the market. In fact, the famous syndicate was again spoken of, whilst others hinted at fresh orders from Europe, a most unlikely occurrence with the collapse in quotations still so fresh. However, the fact was there in all its convincing reality, and holders were jubilant over the great rise in the series. Everything else in the way of stocks was weak. Ounces opened at 56.80, fluctuated between 56.90 and 56.70, and closed with buyers at 56.80, giving an equivalent of 349¼ %. The business in sovereigns was unimportant, the rate closing at 17.70.
The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares to-day at the second ring:—

Exchange brokers report the market dull and weak at 48¼-⅜d. and 5.06-07 fcs.
The steamers which cleared to-day took only a small exchange mail.
The Custom House receipts to-day were as follows:—

	m/n
Imports	$163,640.28
Exports	3,756.19
	167,396.47

Total since Jan. 1st $13,241,419.54 m/n and $122,048.73 gold.
Cheques on the Provincial and National Banks are quoted at various rates, some changing hands at 12 to 14 % discount, and others at the severe shave of 30%.
Discounts are quoted at 9 to 10 % for first-rate signatures, but the market continues very tight, and little doing in this line.
The Provincial Mortgage Bank Board advises the public in general that it will receive tenders for the supply of Cedulas to amount of $500 gold and $408,000 paper, without the April, but with all succeeding coupons; the tenders to be presented on or before 1st May at 3 p.m.
It is said that as soon as Congress opens Deputies Larsen, Beracochea and Castaño will move to have duties or taxes on all articles of prime necessity reduced by at least 25%. It is a move in the right direction, as the cost of living at present is almost beyond the means of the proletariat class, no matter how vigorous the economy practised.

The following is a list proposed by a number of shareholders as candidates for directors of the National Bank. The names are too well known to need any comment: Messrs. Antonio Devotto, Manuel S. Aguirre, Salvador Gomez, Juan Salaberry and H. Pearson.

Wheat in the Once market changed hands at $14.50 m/n, the highest price yet quoted. If this continues bread will soon be a luxury, and the Municipality will be forced to open a municipal bakery, as has been recently done by the Rosario Corporation.

Telegrams received to-day from Havannah announce jerked beef at 18 rls. and the market flat. In Rio jerked beef is quoted at 350 to 400 reis the kilo, exchange being quoted at 17¼ pence.

Messrs. Mayer and Parfitt have applied to the Minister of Finance to issue orders to pay them 465,000 dollars gold, amount of the second call payable for construction of a floating dock in Zarate. They beg to state that they were assured by the Government that this second call would be paid in London; this not having taken place they were obliged to sign a bill for £15,000 sterling which fell due on the 9th inst. In case of non-payment this Zarate floating dock would be sold by the builders to recoup their expenses and pay for damages suffered. The Minister consulted the Public Works' Board in the matter and the Inspeccion de Obras Hidraulicas. The Board states that there is not the slightest pretext for Messrs. Mayer and Parfitt's request of payment of the 2nd call, according to contract drawn up in 1888 the Board maintain that the Goverment is pledged to pay that amount only after delivery to the Argentine Minister in favour of the bills of lading of the total work or materials placed abroad: this has not been done by the concessionaries. The Board also point to the penalties stipulated in the contract of these gentlemen in case of non-compliance with the conditions agreed.

The Financial Times of March 25th contains the following:—

«A special meeting of the shareholders of the Central Argentine Railway Company was held yesterday to hear the report of Messrs. Morrison, Cooper and Theobald, who have returned from a visit to that country. The report stated that the revolution had seriously affected their returns. Their low-rated traffic had fallen entirely away. They had taken measures to reduce their working expenses, which were working satisfactorily. £300,000 over and above their present capital would be required in order to meet their commitments. The chairman said that the indications for the future were, on the whole, favourable. He hoped there would be no rate wars in the Republic.

«The impression created by the statement of the chairman may be gauged by the movements of the stock after yesterday's sitting. The price before the special report was read was 89-91, but after the meeting the stock was called 77, sellers, and when the Stock Exchange closed the quotation was nominally 70-75, the stuff being quite unsaleable at 70. We do not think the facts disclosed quite warrant this very severe drop.»

Muy Señores Mios,

Tengo el gusto de comunicar a Vds. que las 4 maquinas de Esquilar sistema Wolseley me han dado un resultado satisfactorio y no queria darles este informe hasta no haber concluido con la esquila de borregas. La maquina trabaja bien, esquilamos con facilidad cualquiera oveja por mas fina y arrugada que sea: saca mas lana que la tijera y tiene la ventaja de no cortar, pero si en algunos casos rasguña descuidandose el esquilador. Estas lastim duras sanan facilmente, y se ha en cada vez menos cuanto mas practica se adquiere. No he notado que se me hayan muerto animales por esta causa.

Convencido de su eficacia pienso colocar doce aparatos para la proxima esquila y creo poder hacer facilmente el trabajo con ellos. Puedo asegurar a Vds. que los esquiladores mas torpes aprenden facilmente, prefiriendolas a la tijera.

Pueden Vds. darle la publicidad que gusten.
